THE ART EMBROIDERY REVOLUTION WITH FRENCH MELBOURNE COUTURIER, DELPHINE GENIN

French-Australian couture designer Delphine Genin, who trained in Paris at the exclusive, CHANEL-owned Ecole Lesage, will host this virtual masterclass. Sharing the story behind her label and reveal her thinking process when designing new pieces. Delphine creates unique pieces of textile design/art, which at once both embody the wearer and also transform their perception of themselves and the world around them. In this class she will also address the idea; 'Is being 'revolutionary' the old normal or still relevant today?' A special bottle of Champagne Philippe Fourrier, to sip while you stitch (this is the french way after all!) can be ordered by participants from www.unwinedliquor.com.au. If you wish to be in the French "spirit" of the Bastille Day French Festival, join in this rare afternoon with Delphine!
